

OMIA Collaborative Symposia Series

Engendering Race & Class in a Globalizing World: Transnational Perspectives

Dr. Joyce Hamilton Henry

Adjunct Professor, University of Hartford

“Between Two Worlds: Issues of Race, Ethnicity and Identity”

Friday, March 21, 2008

Time: 4:30 PM

Location: Konover Auditorium, Dodd Center

Faculty & Student Focus Group discussion

Friday, March 21, 2008

Time: 11:30 AM - 1:00 PM

Location: The Rainbow Center, Student Union Room 403

Joyce Hamilton Henry received a Bachelor of Science degree in Human Development and Family Relations from the University of Connecticut, a Masters of Social Work degree from the University of Connecticut School of Social Work, and a doctorate degree from the Heller School for Social Policy and Management at Brandeis University. She was the former Director of the Office of Multicultural Programs at the University of Hartford. In that capacity, she developed and implemented programs to assist with the recruitment and retention of students of color and to address broader issues of diversity and inclusion on the college campus. Since 1988, Joyce has been an Adjunct Professor at the University of Hartford in African American Studies and the Departments of Sociology and Psychology. She has presented numerous papers regionally, nationally, and internationally on race and ethnic relations, Caribbean immigrants, cross cultural counseling and supervision, consulted with many organizations, and has conducted numerous workshops regarding workplace diversity. She is published and is known nationally and internationally for her contributions in the field of social work. In June 2001, she was the recipient of the National Association of Social Workers (Connecticut Chapter) Social Worker of the Year Award. Joyce is a staunch advocate of issues pertaining to immigrants and is co-chair of the Connecticut Immigrant and Refugee Coalition. Joyce Hamilton Henry is committed to racial, social, and economic justice.

Dr. Hamilton Henry is the second of three speakers in this symposia series for Spring 2008. Additional speakers will be on campus in February and April - please visit www.womens.studies.uconn.edu for more information.

Co-Sponsored by: Center for Latin American & Caribbean Studies, Institute for African-American Studies, Institute for Asian-American Studies, Institute for Puerto Rican & Latino Studies, Women's Studies Program & the Office of the Vice Provost for Multicultural and International Affairs